

INKJET PART IDENTIFICATION

Greene Tweed now offers inkjet part identification to aid in product identification and installation. Equipment manufacturers and end users are seeking additional traceability on critical service parts, especially in cases where products look very similar. Greene Tweed will continue to ship product with traceability information on the packaging, with the option to also mark part numbers on the individual products.

For further information or to discuss your traceability needs, please contact your local Greene Tweed representative.

gtweed.com

